The International Workshop on Information Forensics and Security (WIFS) is the major annual event organized by the IEEE Information Forensics and Security (IFS) Technical Committee of the IEEE Signal Processing Society. The aims of the event are to bring together researchers from relevant disciplines to discuss challenges, exchange new ideas and to share state-of-the-art results and technical expertise in the area of information security and forensics. The 15th edition of WIFS will take place in Nürnberg, Germany.

Topics of interest for submission:

- Applied Cryptography
- Biometrics
- Blockchain security and privacy
- Communication and Physical Layer Security
- Data Privacy and Anonymity
- Deep Learning for Forensics
- Hardware Security
- Information Theoretic Security
- Multimedia Forensics
- Privacy and Surveillance
- Steganography, Steganalysis and Covert Communications
- Watermarking, Data Hiding and Content Protection

Regular submission to WIFS 2023 can be up to 6 double-column pages including references and figures. Accepted and presented papers will be submitted for inclusion into IEEE Xplore subject to meeting IEEE Xplore's scope and quality requirements. It is IEEE policy that WIFS accepts only original research papers, which are not already published or submitted elsewhere (including journals, conferences and workshops). Double submissions will be rejected immediately.

Sponsors

In order to participate in IEEE WIFS 2023, there are three levels of support. The following table shows the options associated with the three levels of financial support. Please take note that any other combination of benefits can be discussed. Feel free to contact the IEEE WIFS 2023 organizers: contact-wifs2023@fau.de

Financial support will be used both to reduce registration fees to be paid by participants (e.g., by covering travel costs for invited speakers) and to fund reward programs such as student scholarships and best paper awards.

Important: If you are interested in supporting IEEE WIFS 2023, please send the attached Declaration of Support document before September 15, 2023 to the e-mail address above.
